Claim Objections

Claim 22 is objected to because of the following informalities:

On line 1 of claim 22, the language "provided in provided in" is redundant.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 21-24 and 30-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Rose et al (US 3,102,356) in view of or Fuchs (DE 20022306) or Hassler et al (US 6,997,958). Rose meets the claim language where the femoral head as claimed is met by the head (10) of Rose, the neck as claimed is neck (6), and at least one the spacer as claimed is stop ring(s) (a) of various thicknesses; see column 2, lines 37-42 and also see the disclosure of Figures 5 and 7 as well as column 1, line 55 to column 2, line 55. However, Rose fails to disclose a stem that is separate from the neck but is capable of being positioned in a bore in the neck via a taper fit as claimed.

Fuchs teaches that it was known to make detachable necks that can be attached to a stem portion; see the figure and the bottom of that figure that shows a taper fit opening for a stem. Similarly, Hassler teaches that it was known to make necks detachable from the stems and to fit via a taper lock therewith; see Figures 5 and 6. Therefore, it is the Examiner's position that it would have been obvious to make the neck of Rose detachable so that it could be fit to different stems to better adapt the invention to the particular patient; see MPEP 2144.04 V that is incorporated herein by reference.

With regard to claims 22-24 and 33-34, Rose fails to disclose the use of the particular sizes claimed or a plurality of them in the bore as claimed. However, since Rose teaches that it was contemplated to use stops of various thicknesses (see column 2, lines 37-43), it is the Examiner's position that it would have been obvious to use stops of particular thicknesses or multiples of such stops in order to adapt the invention to the particular needs of the patient.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Applicant should specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure, including the claims (MPEP 714.02 and 2163.06). Due to the procedure outlined in MPEP 2163.06 for interpreting claims, it is noted that other art may be applicable under 35 USC 102 or 35 USC 103(a) once the aforementioned issue(s) is/are addressed.

Applicant is respectfully requested to provide a list of all copending applications that set forth similar subject matter to the present claims. A copy of such copending claims is respectfully requested in response to this Office action if the application is not stored in image format (i.e. the IFW system) or published.
